

The Enterprise

the power of a large floor stander with the finesse of a mini monitor

The Enterprise is a powerful loudspeaker that offers exquisite performance in a very elegant and compact package.

It combines the finesse of the finest high-end mini monitor with the dynamic ease and bass performance of a large floor standing loudspeaker.

With its huge, accurate sound stage, the Enterprise reproduces music with a realism that is palpable and emotional, and rewards the listener with endless musical adventures.

Although it measures only 5.5 inches wide by 43 inches high by 10.5 inches deep, the Enterprise is designed to meet the demanding needs of high-end two-channel stereo and home theater. It features our proprietary double transmission line design that delivers stunning bass reproduction and twice the output of our Windjammer.

And, like the rest of the Role line, the beautiful handcrafted cabinets show that we pay full attention to our loudspeakers as objects of art.
